

Usage of the Biodiversity is Us tools by non-WAZA members

Thank you very much for your interest in using the Decade on Biodiversity tools. These tools are normally reserved for members of the World Association of Zoos and Aquariums (WAZA) but in appropriate circumstances external collaborations are both accepted and supported. Your offer for collaboration has been internally approved under the following rationale:

Support for the ongoing relationship between ICOM and WAZA

So that the tools can be used please complete the following fields and email the scanned document to biodiversity.decade@waza.org:

I agree to use the Biodiversity is Us tools under the following conditions:

1. I understand that the Biodiversity is Us tools are the property of WAZA and endeavour to use the Biodiversity is Us tools as agreed with WAZA and according to the recommendations in the Training Manual that will be supplied.
2. When adaptations are made changing the tools I will request for approval from WAZA
3. Examples of use (pictures, films, etc.) will be provided to illustrate the use of the tools
4. Wherever relevant I will join and promote the Biodiversity is Us social media streams (mainly Facebook - BioDiversityIsUs and Twitter - @BioDivUs) and use it to promote both these social streams and the use of the mobile phone/ tablet App.
5. I will provide a short text explaining the scope and timeline for the usage of the tools
6. Any translations or other adaptations made by the signatory below will be provided to WAZA and may be used by WAZA at no cost
7. In exchange WAZA will provide access to the Biodiversity is Us tools.
